

- The text is promoting Planet eBook, a service where users can download free eBooks of classic literature,
- It provides a brief biography of Fyodor Dostoevsky, a Russian author born into a poor, religious family who
- Dostoevsky was arrested in 1849, accused of participating in anti-censorship discussions, and spent eight
- Dostoevsky spent four years in Siberia with common criminals and later wrote about his prison experience
- Despite suffering from epilepsy and financial hardships, Dostoevsky continued to write in his later years and
- The text describes a scene from Dostoevsky's "Crime and Punishment", where the protagonist, a poor young
- The protagonist's anxiety is exacerbated by the oppressive summer heat, the city's airlessness, and his con
- The young man is described as good-looking but dressed in rags, walking through the streets of Petersburg
- Another scene describes the young man's worry about his old, worn-out hat drawing attention and potential